Introduction

Nanobase is a leading company that provides optical analysis instruments in Korea. Based on the accumulated expertise of approximately 10 years of research and developing of optical analysis system, we are manufacturing an outstanding nanoscale analytical instruments such as Raman spectroscopy system, fluorescence lifetime imaging (FLIM) system. We aim to claim the title for best manufacturing company of advanced optical systems in the world that is capable of nanoscale material analysis. We promise to do our best to contribute to advancement of science and technology. Thank you.
